

Site Safety Health Officer

---

Competitive and award-winning construction company currently accepting resumes from qualified candidates for Site Safety & Health Officer (SSHO). The SSHO shall perform safety & health related inspections, trainings, surveillance and enforcement. Candidate should be familiar with Department of Defense and/or Army Corps of Engineers projects. Salary is based on experience. Excellent benefits package. Drug Free Workplace. Equal Opportunity Employer. Qualified women, minorities, veterans, disabled & handicapped persons are encouraged to apply. Email resumes to HR Mgr, careers@osborne.cc or fax to 907-451-1146.

Minimum Requirements:

- Ten (10) years experience as a construction site safety and health officer (with 4 of those years in a government setting or similar type construction).
- Competent Person status in at least four of the following areas: Excavation, Scaffolding, Fall Protection, Hazardous Energy, Confined Space, Health Hazard Recognition or Personal Protection Equipment.
- An average of at least 24 hours per/year of formal safety training for the last five years.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office applications.
- Completed the 30 Hour OSHA Construction Safety Class within the last five (5) years.
- Possess exceptional communication skills with third-party representatives (government officials or otherwise), co-workers and supervisor.
- Current CPR/First-Aid Certification

Other Duties May Include:

- Maintain current and accurate records of jobsite inspections, safety records, employee trainings, accident/incident investigations.
- Ensure all employees are properly trained to recognize and correct hazards on the job.
- Conduct site-wide , thorough safety inspections.